

Project: Letters to soldiers

By: Colin Thomas and Alex Delk

What are we doing?

We plan on writing formal letters to soldiers overseas that may not get letters very often from family or friends and to inspire them.

Our sources and websites:

Websites: Operation-we are home URL <http://www.operationwearehere.com/>

Example of one of our letters:

1. Dear marine, we thank you for your service as a guardian of the usa. Without your service the us would be a different country so all of the us citizens should be thankful for you and all of the military personal. I am just writing this letter to give you some hope and inspire you and tell you that you matter and are changing lives of many by protecting the us. None of us know what you go through and that's not what matters. What matters is that you are brave enough and are willing to do what certain people can do and most people don't understand that and that you are such a blessing to the american people and we are so blessed to have you and we thank you.

Our Goals:

The main things we wanted to accomplish in this project is to give back to our country and give back to the ones who serve in our country.

Summary of the community project

The opportunity to do a community project has changed our view on the whole community. I had always thought that the community was important but now that i have done this project i realize how much the community and people around us actually do for us. We did our project on writing letters to military soldiers overseas. We didn't know much about writing letters to military soldiers, But our mentor helped us and we were able to come up with some ideas. This project made us notice what our military and community do every day to make our lives safer and better.
