

Our Community Project

Submitted by: Hailie Pippin and Autumn Barsumian

The Idea

We wanted to give back to something we both love, animals. So, we decided to raise money to give to the animal shelter. But how? By making then selling bracelets because we both had experience with making them so it would be an easier way to make money.

The Process

We first had to buy the supplies to make the bracelets, string and some safety pins. Then we looked up different types of bracelets to decide which ones we were going to make. We then made many of the types we liked and sold them to neighbors and family. We sold many of them and received donations with the money for the bracelets.

The End Result

In the end after selling most of the bracelets and with the end of the project drawing near, we received a total of $178.

Giving the Money

After collecting all the money, we looked up how the animal shelter wanted to have money donated to them. On their website they wrote that they receive money by paypal or check. After weighing the pros and cons of each we decided to write a check to them.

Summary Reflection

We thought this project was a good idea to help the community. There are a few problems with it, but they can be fixed. If they are we think that the project will have a better end result for all the students.

We do not learn from experience... we learn from reflecting on experience.
